M. A. Miller will receive this week a large supply of stationery and school books direct from Chicago.

Quite a distressing accident happened here Saturday forenoon, that for awhile was thought would result fatally to the little faur-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs Henry Ray. The little fellow was out where the threshers were at work, and while playing in the straw, felt in such a manner that the hind wheel of a heavily loaded wagon passof over his body. He was carried to the house and Dr. Hyde, of Scio, was called, under whose treatment the child is resting easily, and hopes are entertained for his complete recovery

The rain of the early week came a little too soon for a few of the farmers, vatching their grain out. Most of the threshing is done however and machines laid up for the
